

Webscale Playbook: Facebook

Facebook's push for privacy along with its quest for network expansion lifts network spending

Product Code: GNI-25062019-1

Contact Info: arun@mtnconsulting.biz

Author: Arun Menon

Date Published: 06/25/2019

Agenda

<Click on section name to navigate>

UT	Abstract	3
02	Operational Scale	4
03	Latest earnings takeaways	5
04	Revenue analysis	6
05	Capex & R&D: Spend analysis	7
06	Key spending priorities	8
07	Key technology relationships	9-10
80	Vendor market analysis	11
09	Data center footprint	12
10	Facebook's network strategy	13
	Appendix 1	14
	Appendix 2	15

Operational Scale

Facebook's global network is expanding rapidly with data center and undersea cable investments to serve its ever-increasing user base, that currently sits at a massive 2.37 billion monthly active users

15

10

>57,000

Global data center locations

Known* undersea cable projects operated by Facebook

Miles of fiber and submarine cable systems

Facebook's Webscale Network Infrastructure Metrics

1,562 mn

Average daily active users

2,375 mn

Monthly active users (as of March 31, 2019)

500 mn

Daily active users of Instagram Stories (as of January 2019)

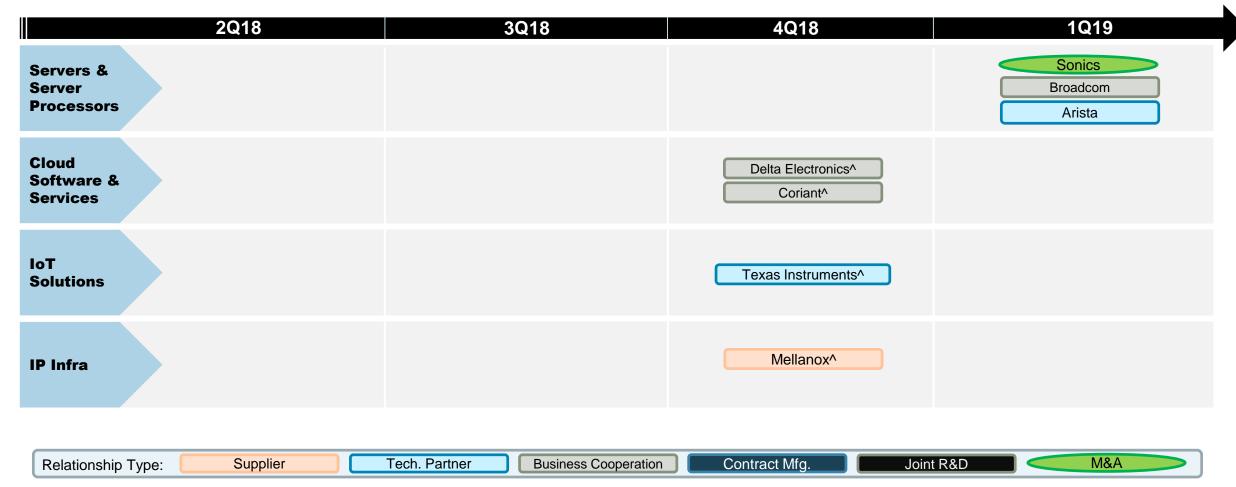

Source: Company website; Company annual reports

(for March 2019)

*projects typically operated jointly with other cable investors

Facebook's Key Technology Relationships* in Networks (1/2)

Facebook's emphasis on data center scalability and flexibility is reflected in the recent activities under servers & server processors category, which included the acquisition of on-chip network provider, Sonic

^{*}For a detailed analysis of Microsoft's technology relationships over a longer time series, refer to the latest edition of our Webscale Network Supply Chain Analyzer

[^] Deals with vendors marked with caret (^) symbol are "Current" or "Ongoing" in nature